

Burke Harris

Town of Shelburne Community Participation & Volunteerism Committee Volunteer of the Month August 2015

Burke Harris – the man behind the annual Shelburne County Exhibition – has for many years been contributing his time and energy to pulling together this anticipated community event. In addition to responsibilities for managing and organizing the Shelburne County Exhibition, Burke takes a particular interest in organizing the Ox Pull events, both during the Exhibition and separately.

Burke has long been a supporter of community organizations in Shelburne. In addition to volunteering with the Shelburne County Exhibition, he is a member of the Masons Albert Lodge.

For working tirelessly to organize the much-loved Shelburne County Exhibition each year, the Town of Shelburne Community Participation & Volunteerism Committee recognizes Burke as Volunteer of the Month for August, 2015.
