

Jackie Race

Town of Shelburne Community Participation & Volunteerism Committee Volunteer of the Month May 2016

In Shelburne the name Jackie Race is virtually synonymous with volunteer work. In particular, Jackie is known as a tireless fundraiser and advocate for community causes.

Recently Jackie took a lead role in fundraising to purchase a wheelchair accessible van for Brittany Locke who was born with spina bifida. In addition to supporting local causes, Jackie worked for years to collect donations for a container of needed supplies to be sent to Mayagba village in Northern Sierra Leone.

In recognition of her dedication to community and international causes the Town of Shelburne Community Participation & Volunteerism Committee recognizes Jackie as Volunteer of the Month for May, 2016.
